

San Diego State University COVID-19 Notice and Disclosure

The Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic is a worldwide risk to human health. COVID-19 is a highly contagious disease which can spread easily and exponentially, and lead to severe illness or death. According to various public health organizations, persons of all ages are at risk. Senior citizens and persons with underlying health conditions are especially vulnerable.

An inherent risk of exposure to COVID-19 exists in any shared or public space where people are present, including on-campus housing. San Diego State University (SDSU) has taken and will continue to take various measures to address the health and safety of students in on-campus housing. However, those measures cannot completely eliminate the risk of exposure. Students who have elected to return to for face-to-face instruction and who will be residing in on-campus housing will face a risk of exposure.

To minimize the risk to you and others residing in on-campus housing, you are being asked to confirm that:

1. You understand that although SDSU has taken and will continue to take various measures to protect against exposure, those measures will not eliminate all risk of exposure to COVID-19, and there will remain a risk of exposure.
2. Upon occupancy, to the best of your knowledge, you are not currently infected with COVID-19.
3. Upon occupancy, you are not experiencing symptoms associated with COVID-19. Symptoms include a loss of taste or smell, fever, severe headaches, severe fatigue or body/muscle aches, unusual gastrointestinal distress, or signs of respiratory illness such as a dry cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing.
4. Upon occupancy, to the best of your knowledge, within the last 14 days, you have not been in personal or close contact with an individual infected with COVID-19
5. You agree to immediately notify Student Health Services or designated Residential Education team members if you, at any time whatsoever, experience any symptom(s) associated with COVID-19, or believe you may have come into personal or close contact with an individual infected with COVID-19.

6. You understand and agree that the exclusive purpose for the which SDSU is providing housing is to enable you to complete and/or participate in a campus educational program. Accessing or allowing access to the property for any other purpose may be dangerous or unsafe, and could expose you or others to COVID-19.
7. You understand and agree that you must comply with all federal, State and local directives, orders or mandates related to COVID-19 as well as any SDSU directive or policy.
